

Charities Week

June 19th – 23rd

Our charities week is coming soon! Charities Week is a fun way for us to raise some money for a range of charities as well as the children thinking creatively in designing their own games and activities. This year the charities we will be supporting include

- The Refugee project in Norwich
- SERV Norfolk which is a charity providing an urgent, rapid response medical transport service for the NHS Hospitals of Norfolk.
- Critical Care Unit at the NNUH in memory of Gemma Pryce
- NSPCC

We would welcome your support for the week and invite you to join us on any of the days to spend your money and have a go at the amazing variety of stalls the children create! Or if you are feeling adventurous have a stall of your own!

The events take place during an extended morning playtime starting at 10.15am.

All the children have been given a 'briefing' on the activities they can offer. As we have a number of children with nut allergies in school, we have asked that all chocolate or any other prizes, if used, are nut free and we also encourage the children to think of other prizes than sweets, if possible!

Children are to work in small groups/pairs to create their own game and provide their own equipment. The school will provide tables etc. and will give an opportunity in school to begin their games.

As well as providing their own games, the children will need a small amount of money each day to play the other team's games! Activities are usually no more than 10p or 20p each.

The team days are as follows:

Y6 - Monday

Y 5- Wednesday

Y4 -Thursday

Y3- Friday

Please help your child to remember to bring their equipment on the correct day! It is always a wonderful week and we appreciate the support the parents give during this time.

We hope you can join us and have some fun!
