

Ode to Joy

I've been looking at various virtual pianos online and I've chosen this one. Unlike many others, the keys are laid-out in the same way as a real piano and so when using it, pupils will learn to use their fingers correctly. The tunes are written out with for both hands. Start with just the right hand and then add the left hand as you become more confident. The first row tells you which keys to press and the second, which fingers to use.
